I think what you added was good. I'll accept changes and send back to you. These narratives go to the general public and the congressional reps and so we try to have the discussion at the public interest rather than HRS level. We don't want HRS terminology because people reading the narratives are usually not particularly knowledgeable about the HRS. Specifically for why we are listing the site, this has evolved to be basically, the state is supportive of listing and no other viable programs are available. The health rationale for listing is usually in other sections of the narrative.
Hope this helps.
